

THE VERY LATEST. WAR NEWS AFTER MIDNIGHT.

SEOUL, April 22.—[Exclusive Associated Press.] Yesterday's rumor of a battle fought near the town of Yalu was based on several small skirmishes. The Russian scouting parties on the eastern coast are retiring northward. It is reported that the Russians are gradually retreating from the vicinity of Amoy, toward Pong Wai.

PROPOSED TRIPLE ALLIANCE.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
BERLIN, April 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Considerable interest has been aroused here by an extraordinary article in the Novoe Vremya, in which reference is made to the possible conclusion of an Anglo-Russian-Franco alliance. If there were any truth in this, it would be of course indicating that Russia was already considering the question of peace. However, it is regarded here as merely a balon d'essai. The statement in the Svet, in effect that it may devolve upon the powers to enforce the neutrality of China, and suggesting that Germany should take the initiative in proposing this measure, meets with energetic protests here.

RUMORS AND STRATEGY.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.]
LONDON, April 22.—Rumors of fighting on the Yalu River are repeated in various forms and from various points. The Shanghai correspondent of the Post says he heard that the first Japanese army had crossed the Yalu almost without opposition, and the Chronicle's correspondent at Seoul says that heavy fighting has occurred, but that for strategic reasons it is impossible to send particulars. No authentic news, however, has reached London, showing that anything has happened beyond skirmishing.

THE VOSSISCHE ZEITUNG declares: "Of all the powers, Germany has the least reason to place herself at the disposal of the Czar's government, more especially as it is known that France shows the greatest disinclination to assume the role proposed for Germany."

THE JOURNAL denies that the presence of foreign instructors in the Chinese army is a breath of neutrality, and no power can object if China protects her frontiers. If Germany is foolish enough to assume the role proposed, she is now laying herself open to another diplomatic defeat.

TORPEDO BOAT SENSATION.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
BERLIN, April 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A sensation has been caused in Berlin by a dispatch from a German agency to the effect that Germany has ceded to Russia certain torpedo boats building in private yards, which are on the point of completion. Eight of these which are being built by the Schichau yards are the latest torpedo boats yet constructed in Germany, being of 500 tons, with an average speed of 24 knots. In order to prevent a breach of neutrality, the German government has annulled its contract with said yard, leaving the builders free to do as they please with the torpedo boats.

INTERVENTION SCOTCHED AT.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
ST. PETERSBURG, April 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Ideas, apparently started in Paris, of the possibility of an arrangement being come to after the first engagement on land, supposing the Russians victorious, upon the conditions of Japan retaining Korea and Russia keeping Manchuria, are pure nonsense. Russia would never accept such a proposition. King Edward is reported to be the mover of such an idea here. The King was given opinions for having calmed chauvinism and anti-Russian sentiment in England, and thus prevented international complications, but King Edward would never think of offering intervention which would meet with prompt refusal. Nor was any such action arranged recently in Copenhagen. What was settled there was the assured neutrality of Denmark, which is another blow to the German project.

JAPANESE GOLD.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.]
SEATTLE (Wash.) April 22.—A shipment of Japanese gold, amounting to more than 6,000,000 yen, passed through the hands of the Wells Fargo Express Company for the East. The money was landed at Vancouver, a couple of days ago, from the steamship Empress of India, and it is said it is to be used for the purchase of supplies for the Japanese government.

MME. STRANDMAN SLAIN.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.]
ST. PETERSBURG, April 22.—The wife of Gen. Strandman, who lived in a handsome house adjoining the Winter Palace, was murdered today. She was found in her room with her head chopped open with an ax. A valuable watch and other jewelry were taken by the murderers.

CHICAGO, April 22.—A special cable dispatch to the Daily News from Stockholm, Sweden, says it is reported in responsible quarters that certain strange craft, said to be Japanese submarines, are hovering on the east coast of Sweden. They were last seen off the fortified harbor of Padesund, in the island of Gotland, in the center of the Baltic Sea. It is reported that the St. Petersburg authorities have been advised of the matter, and are alarmed for the safety of the Baltic fleet.

SIGHTED JAP FLEET.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.]
SHANGHAI, April 22.—A Japanese fleet, consisting of twelve vessels, was sighted thirty miles southwest of Cliff Island yesterday. It showed no lights, and was steaming slowly to the north.

SPY STORY DOUBTED.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.]
ST. PETERSBURG, April 22.—An Associated Press correspondent called the attention of the Foreign Office to the allegation of the Harbin correspondent of the Frankfurter Zeitung, published in the United States, to the effect that four unnamed American citizens were held as Japanese spies at Mukden, and that an American named Reilly and a Canadian named Davidson had mysteriously disappeared from Mukden under circumstances such that they raised suspicion of foul play. The Foreign Office replied that it has no information whatever on the subject, and it is its belief that the statement is unfounded.

STATE OF SIEGE EXTENDED.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.]
ST. PETERSBURG, April 22, 7:30 p.m.—The stage of siege has been extended to all the towns adjacent to the Siberian Railroad.

KING EDWARD'S MEDIATION.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.]
ST. PETERSBURG, April 22, 5:15 p.m.—The Novosti expresses delight at the report that King Edward is seeking to mediate, and finds in the seeking to the Japanese ally ventures to broach the subject when Russia is thirsting to avenge her defeats, conclusive evidence of the sympathy of the European powers, which realize the menace of a Japanese victory.

SUSPECTED JAPS ARRESTED.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.]
ARCHANGEL (Russia) April 22.—Two suspected Japanese have been arrested on the railroad near Volodig, in Northeastern Russia, 302 miles from Moscow, with plans in their possession of Archangel and the famous monastery on the island of Solovetsky in the White Sea.

MARTIAL LAW FEATURES.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.]
TIEN-TSIN, April 22.—[By Viceroy Alexieff has declared Yankow, a town of the Imperial Chinese Railway, with plans in their possession of Archangel and the famous monastery on the island of Solovetsky in the White Sea.

NEW YORK, April 22.—The plans for the new Bellevue Hospital were made public today. They provide for the largest hospital in the world. It will extend from Twenty-third to Twenty-ninth streets and from First avenue to East River. It will take the place of the old Bellevue Hospital, which will be razed to the ground. The new hospital will be constructed of brick and stone, will be fire proof, and will accommodate 2500 patients.

on the ground that high church authorities should not accept such positions. The committee adjourned until tomorrow.

LAND LEGISLATION DENIED.
DELAY UNTIL NEXT SESSION.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
WASHINGTON, April 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The House Committee on Public Lands showed the white flag today and refused to make a favorable report on the bill repealing the Timber and Stone Act. There has been an insistent demand from all over the West that this act, along with the forest land law and conservation clause of the Homestead Act, be repealed at this session of Congress. Special interests, however, came along and made something of a showing, so that several members of the House committee got a case of political stage fright and have been fighting for delay for some time.

When the committee met today, Representative Neuharth of California precipitated a struggle by making a motion that the bill repealing the Timber and Stone Act be reported favorably to the House.

Representative Tacker immediately made a motion that consideration of the bill be postponed till the first meeting of the committee next December. That motion took precedence over the one made by Representative Neuharth, and it was carried by a vote of 8 to 5.

The plan now is to take up the bill next December along with other land legislation, and let the hearings come delay in action till Congress adjourns. So it is doubtful now if the land legislation that the West is demanding can be had before the opening of the Fifty-ninth Congress, unless people who are interested exhibit great and insistent activity in demanding it.

BILLS BEFORE CONGRESS.
WASHINGTON, April 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With only about one week of the session, the House has 510 bills on its calendar and the Senate 435. In the House 140 of these are public and 372 private bills. In the Senate 145 are public and 290 private. The private pension bills alone number 146 before the House and 230 before the Senate. Eliminating measures of purely local interest, the important measures which the House has up for consideration are as follows:

By Mr. Cooper of Wisconsin, to provide a delegate from Porto Rico by Mr. Cushman of Washington, to provide a delegate from Alaska.

By Mr. Gardner of Massachusetts, to create a commission on development of merchant marine.

By Mr. Gillette of California, to make national parks of the groves of Sequoia gigantea.

By Mr. Eech, to establish military camp grounds in Texas, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania and California.

By Mr. Martin, to establish mining experiment stations.

By Senator Frye, to provide for the destruction of deer in the national parks to loan on real estate security.

By Senator Frye, to require the employment of United States volunteers for public purposes.

By Mr. Swaine, impeachment resolution, over to next December.

By Mr. Hepburn, the Deliber bill to permit States to control shipments of liquor in original packages.

By Mr. Jones, a naval court-martial to compel the attendance of civilian witnesses.

By Mr. Jones, to change the time limit to statute of limitations.

The Senate has these important bills before it:

By Senator Burton, to provide for the purchase of the national Appalachian forest reserves.

By Senator Hale, providing for transportation for naval and other supplies in American-built ships.

By Senator McCumber, the Pure Food Bill, which is also found where in the calendar, reported as a substitute for the Hepburn bill.

By Senator Nelson, providing for a delegate from Porto Rico.

By Senator Lodge, to grade the convalescent service.

By Senator Proctor, to establish military camp grounds, as provided in the corresponding House bill, and also the enlargement of the Chattanooga and Chickamauga national parks.

in the possession of the Attorney-General, with a view to securing action against these roads under the Sherman anti-trust act.

The committee referred the Hearst resolution to a sub-committee consisting of Representatives Powers of Massachusetts, Thomas of Iowa and Smith of Kentucky for further consideration.

THE CONGRESS.

REGULAR SESSION.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—SENATE.—Mr. Gallinger addressed the Senate on the following resolution, introduced by himself:

"That our continued prosperity as a nation is the best possible assurance that our fiscal policy is sound and stable, and that its disturbance by legislation is not warranted by the best interests of the people."

The resolution was the key to the speech. He asserted that, as a result of the tariff policy of the Republican party, the country had been more prosperous during the last seven years than ever before.

The bill for the government of the Panama Canal zone was laid before the Senate, and on motion of Mr. Kittredge it was sent to the conference, the conferees on the part of the Senate being Senators Kittredge, Hopkins and German. Mr. Gorman asked to be excused from the committee.

Mr. Morgan was on his feet at once. "I respectfully decline to serve on the conference committee," he said. "I bow with deep humility to the breach of the rule, and accept the decision of the Senate. I will not proper humility, and I certainly will not consent to serve on the conference committee under the circumstances."

Senator Frye, in the chair, remarked: "I hope the Senator does not hold the chair responsible. I shall uphold the usual custom of appointing the conferees recommended by the committee."

The custom referred to by Mr. Frye is that the Senator in charge of a bill selects the conferees.

Mr. Hale called for the regular order, and Mr. Gorman repeated his declaration to serve on the committee.

The general Declaration Bill was laid before the Senate, and read for committee amendments. Mr. Cullom discussed at some length the provision for the limitation of Chinese exclusion laws.

Explaining previous laws and treaties bearing on the question, he expressed the opinion that the enactment of the treaty of 1894 would have the effect of reviving the treaty of 1882, and said that the latter treaty modifies the treaty of 1894.

Discussing the Act of 1902, he said that the exception made in that law in favor of treaty obligations had been the only treaty bearing on Chinese immigration then in force. He thought it desirable that the Senate should have a specific reenactment of former Chinese exclusion laws. He therefore would favor the retention of such portion of the House provision as would accomplish this result.

Later, Mr. Cullom formally offered an amendment to strike out the major portion of the Chinese exclusion provision.

Mr. Lodge also offered an amendment excluding Chinese and other aliens whose names are on the list of persons excluded by agreement with any transportation company.

The reading of the bill being completed, the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE PROCEEDINGS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.]
WASHINGTON, April 22.—HOUSE.—The House today devoted much time to the consideration of the conference reports on numerous private bills and the disposition of routine matters.

Mr. Burke of South Dakota, from the Committee on Indian Affairs, reported a substitute for the resolution of inquiry of Mr. Lind of Minnesota, relative to the alleged acts of certain members of the Dawes Commission and of certain Federal officers of Indian Territory in connection with land deals.

The substitute provides simply that the Secretary of the Treasury shall advise the House, if not inconspicuous with the law, of any action which has been taken upon the report of Charles J. Bonaparte and Charles A. Woodoff, a special commissioner, who investigated the condition of affairs in the Indian Territory. The substitute was agreed to on a rain vote, 191 to 179.

A conference was ordered on the bill to provide a temporary government for the Alaska Territory, and the bill was passed by a vote of 219 to 191.

Mr. Grosvener of Ohio called up the bill creating a commission to investigate the conditions of the American marine.

POLITICAL DEBATE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.]
WASHINGTON, April 22.—After some discussion, the bill was laid aside. Claude Kitchen (Dem.) of North Carolina strongly assailed Representative Grosvener and the President. Grosvener, he said, had glorified the President as the worthy successor of McKinley, forgetting that during McKinley's last campaign Grosvener, as a contributor to the McKinley campaign, had referred to the President, then Governor of New York, as a "brilliant, erratic and curious sort of a fellow."

Mr. Kitchen charged that the President, as a candidate for Vice-President, was disesteemed to Mr. McKinley, and challenged Mr. Grosvener to deny it, as well as the statement that Mr. Roosevelt, as Vice-President, was humiliated by the friends of McKinley, including Grosvener.

"And yet," he said, "you men sit here and gulp down everything Roosevelt says, and not one of you dares raise his hand in memory of William McKinley."

President McKinley had a right to think that Roosevelt would be disesteemed to him, the speaker said. "The amazing spectacle of any Republican in the United States being humiliated by Grosvener, and contemplating this same man marrying under his banner the hosts of Republicanism with Grosvener the chief bugle blower."

To say that Roosevelt flattered McKinley's place, declared, was a denigration of McKinley's name. It was, he said, a case of the anvil taking the place of the mountain, the owl taking the place of the eagle.

The people of the South knew, he said, that twenty years after Appomattox, Roosevelt had, in one of his publications, declared that until the word "treason" was stricken from the dictionary, Jefferson Davis would be an arch traitor. That, he said, was a stroke at the South and the Confederate soldier. He said that a number of his friends had been struck by the "insulting words of Roosevelt."

He said that in one of his books, President Roosevelt "deliberately threatened and advocates lynching for the stealing of a ragged Texas pony." He asked if the South did not have something to do with stimulating the great people of the North to lawlessness. The people of the South, he said, condemned lynching for all crimes, because the hand of civilization and the hand of the law had been lifted against it. No man the civilized world over, he said, would condone outrages against women, and yet we don't preach anything of the kind. We know the weakness of human nature, which cannot be controlled in sparsely-settled communities where we cannot get sufficient force to the spot at once. He believed that every decent Republican in the country would pause in shame that the President of the United States had scattered books advocating lynch law.

Reading from a speech made by Mr. Roosevelt, while Governor of New York, he declared Mr. Roosevelt had characterized the Congress of the United States as "a herd of cattle."

Laughter on the Democratic side followed.

"The humiliating spectacle," he continued, "is that since he has been President of the United States, he has treated this Republican House as a herd of cattle, and the most humiliating thing about it is that the Republicans allowed the President to treat them as cattle and lay down before him in his green pasture."

He closed by quoting from American ideals, "in which Mr. Roosevelt," he alleged, "had denounced Grosvener by name as a champion of foul government."

Then, turning to Grosvener, he said: "Read that, and then read your speech, and you will see that you are the House that you feel like thirty cents."

Repeating, Gen. Grosvener said that he never said that he was disesteemed to me as a candidate," said Mr. Grosvener. "Mr. Roosevelt was put on the floor of the House, and he said that McKinley got all the abuse."

Gen. Grosvener said that no man on the stump ever made a better impression than Mr. Roosevelt did. He said that Mr. Roosevelt in the convention of 1900 his dignified manner of presiding over the Senate and his conduct in the White House was commendable. Then came the crisis of his life, the death of President McKinley.

And so it was," said Mr. Grosvener, "that the tears of the Democrats began to flow. The statement of Roosevelt, that he was not a candidate, would carry out the policies of McKinley, and would save the country from the hands of the Democrats."

Do you think you can read and garble Grosvener's extracts and make McKinley a candidate? If you think so, you will find when the convention is over that you have been casting your vote for a man who was not a candidate."

Throughout the last four years President Roosevelt had developed, and an utterance had been patriotic and sound. He (Mr. Grosvener) challenged the Democrats to name a single instance where the President had dictated to Congress, adding: "I have never known a public man, holding a high position, who would dictate to Congress."

As between Roosevelt and McKinley, there has been less determined effort to portray the President as a candidate than McKinley. Four years ago he was against Roosevelt for Vice-President, but today he believed he was more dangerous to the Democratic party than any other man in the country. There would be no one to check the President's dictatorial career if he succeeded to a greater extent beyond the hope of his friends.

The House adjourned.

BANDITS AT END OF ROPE.

Neidermeyer, Marx and Vandine Pay the Penalty.

Triple Execution Occurs in Chicago City Jail.

Eight Murders Atoned for in Less than an Hour.

CHICAGO, April 22.—Compelled to be carried to the scaffold, Peter Neidermeyer, leader of the car burn bandits, was hanged today at 10:35 o'clock, and so failed to carry out his oft-repeated boast that he would die before reaching the gallows. The hanging of his associates, Gustave Marx and Harvey Vandine, followed quickly.

Although it was expected at first that Neidermeyer would be able to walk to the gallows, it was found that he was too weak. He was placed on a truck and wheeled to one of the lower floors of the jail, after which he was carried to the scaffold and placed in a chair on the trap. He instinctively put his neck into the noose; the body shot through the trap and for twenty minutes moved convulsively. His neck was broken.

Shortly after 11 o'clock, Marx was led to the scaffold. He was neatly dressed and wore a white rose, given him by his young sister the night before. He was pale, but his courage never left him. He made no statement. Two priests of the Roman Catholic Church accompanied him. He repeated a Hail Mary with them and knelt a crucifix. The jailer adjusted the noose and sprang the trap at 11:17. He was pronounced dead at 11:21. His neck was broken.

Harvey Vandine was hanged shortly after. Incidents in this execution were similar to those that characterized the execution of Marx, although he seemed more calm. He made no statement, but the prayer which he repeated was quite audible. His lips still moving, the trap was sprung at 11:55. His neck was broken.

Before Neidermeyer was taken to the gallows, he was asked if he wished to accept the sacraments. He answered that he cared nothing for spiritual advice. When the drop fell, the throat about his body fell apart and to the onlookers was revealed for twenty minutes the struggles of the desperado.

STRAIN ON THE ROPE.

Subsequent to the third execution, the rope was tested with a bag of sand.

It was feared the strands might have become weakened by the strain of the two previous hangings. However, it was found satisfactory.

A large crowd assembled at the jail preceding the hour of execution and sought admission, but were turned away. Only a limited number, provided by law, were allowed to enter.

Marx and Vandine spent their last hours reading, writing and praying. Several names of priests being with them constantly. Marx's sweet heart was the last of his friends permitted to visit him.

Attorneys for Vandine were trying to see the Governor to obtain a stay of execution and this was why consent was given to hang him last.

Dr. McNamara, the jail physician, visited all three bandits and said their condition was all that could be expected.

Previous to the execution, Neidermeyer maintained the same mien demeanor that has characterized him since he became a prisoner. While the death warrant was being read, he snatched the document from the sheriff and stuck it in his pocket, making a sarcastic reference to his execution.

The hanging of the car-burn bandits, all under 35 years of age, followed closely a period of crime of less than six months. In that time, eight murders were committed, all attendant upon robberies or efforts to escape arrest.

The specific offense for which Vandine, Neidermeyer and Marx were tried and sentenced was the murder of Frank Stewart, a clerk in the Chicago City Railway car barns, during a robbery there on the morning of August 30, 1920. James D. Johnson, a motorman, was also killed and two persons were wounded. The bandits escaped after having secured $2240.

MURDERER ROSE SHOT.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)
SALT LAKE CITY, April 22.—Frank Rose, who murdered his wife last Christmas day, was shot to death in the yard of the State penitentiary at 10:15 this morning. Five prison guards, concealed behind a heavy blue curtain in the doorway of the blacksmith shop, across the area, formed the execution squad. One of the rifles held a blank cartridge. Death was instantaneous, the four bullets lodging in or very close to his heart.

Rose's crime was peculiarly atrocious and cold-blooded, in that it almost resulted in the death of his two-year-old son from starvation and cold. Rose, who claimed his wife was consorting with other men, shot her while she was lying in bed. He sat and talked with her until she died of the wound, then went away, leaving his boy in bed with his dead mother and soaked in her blood. Rose said he returned four times in the next two days to feed the child, climbing through a window and over the head of his wife in order to get into the house.

CASTRO AND REYES MAKE PEACE.
CARACAS, April 22.—Sefor Heriberto, Chilean Minister to Caracas, induced Gen. Rafael Herrera, President-elect of the republic of Colombia, who is on his way to this country from Europe, to land at La Guayra, for the purpose of meeting President Castro. The result of a conference between Gen. Reyes and President Castro at Caracas was the renewal of consular relations between Colombia and Venezuela, which will be followed by the renewal of diplomatic relations.

ALEXIEFF REPORTS DISASTER TO THE PETROPOLVSK.

Explosion Occurred at Right Side of Battleship, Which Was Followed by Second One, This Time Under Her Bridge—Sank in Two Minutes, Bow First.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)
ST. PETERSBURG, April 22.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The text of Viceroy Alexieff's report to the Emperor concerning the Petropavlovsk disaster and the torpedo boat engagement which preceded it (an abstract of which was given in the Associated Press dispatches yesterday,) reads as follows:

"I respectfully report to Your Majesty that on April 11 the whole effective squadron at Port Arthur sailed out six miles to the southwest to maneuver, and toward evening returned to port. On April 12, a flotilla of eight torpedo-boat destroyers went out to inspect the island, having received orders to attack the enemy should they be encountered in the course of the night.

"Owing to the darkness and a heavy rain, three of the destroyers became separated from the flotilla, two of which returned to Port Arthur at dawn. The third, however, the Strashni, having, according to the evidence of her seamen, encountered several Japanese destroyers, took them in the darkness for Russian ships, and, giving the signal of recognition, joined them at dawn. She was recognized by the enemy, and there was a fight at close quarters, in which her commander, midshipman and engineer and most of her crew were killed. Maleff, her lieutenant, although wounded, continued firing on the enemy.

"At dawn, April 13, the cruiser Bayan went out and hurried to the rescue. About sixteen miles from Port Arthur the Bayan saw the destroyer Strashni engaged with four Japanese destroyers. Shortly afterward, an explosion occurred and the Strashni sank. Driving off the enemy's destroyers by her fire, the Bayan approached the scene of the fight, lowered her boats and had time to save the remnants of the destroyer's crew. Unfortunately, only five men were rescued. The others were drowned.

"The cruiser was obliged to fight on her starboard side with six Japanese cruisers, which came up. Having picked up her boats, the Bayan regained the harbor, suffering no damage or loss, although covered with fragments of shells.

"The cruiser Diana and five destroyers hastened to her succor, and at the same time the other cruisers, the battleships Petropavlovsk and Poltava and some destroyers came out from the roadstead and other battleships left the harbor. In column formation, with the Bayan at the head and the destroyers on the flank, Vice-Admiral Makarov proceeded to the scene of the Strashni's fight, whither some Japanese destroyers and cruisers were approaching.

"After a short fusillade at fifty cable lengths, distance 1000 yards, the ships drew off.

"A squadron of nine Japanese battleships appeared at 8:40 a.m. and our ships retired toward Port Arthur. In the roadstead they were joined by the battleships Pobeda, Peresviet and Sevastopol, which were coming out through the channel. The squadron was drawn up in the following order: Askold, Bayan, Diana, Petropavlovsk, Peresviet, Pobeda, Novik, five destroyers and two torpedo cruisers.

WERE TWO EXPLOSIONS.
"They turned toward the left, but when, approaching the mouth of the channel the destroyers were signalled to return to the harbor and the cruisers to proceed. Maneuvering with the Petropavlovsk at their head, the squadron turned to the east, making toward the enemy on their right.

"At 9:43 a.m., an explosion occurred at the right side of the Petropavlovsk, then a second and violent explosion under her bridge. A thick column of greenish-yellow smoke was seen to rise from the battleship, her mast, funnel, bridge and turret were thrown up and the battleship heeled over on her starboard side. Her poop rose from the water, showing her screw working in the air. The Petropavlovsk was surrounded by flames and in two minutes sank, bow first.

"Some of her crew escaped. The cruiser Gaydamak, which was a cable length away, lowered boats and succeeded in rescuing Grand Duke Cyril and forty-seven avamen. The destroyers and boats from the Portava and Askold also picked up some of the Petropavlovsk's crew. Altogether, seven officers and seventy-three men were saved. The Poltava, which was following the Petropavlovsk, two cable lengths astern, stopped her engines and remained on the scene of the disaster.

"At a signal from Rear-Admiral Aukhtomsky, the other warships made for the entrance of the harbor, maneuvering toward the Peresviet in line. A mine explosion occurred under the starboard side of the Pobeda. She listed, but later entered the harbor, with the rest of the ships astern of her. The enemy remained in sight until 3 o'clock and then disappeared.

"The night preceding the battle of the squadron lights of vessels were seen in the distance and commandery fleets kept watch until dawn from the cruiser Diana, stationed in the outer roadstead. She left here at 4 o'clock in the morning.

"In concluding, I take the liberty to announce respectfully that, despite the ill-success which has attended the Pacific fleet, the crews of the ships

POWERFUL ARMIES FOR THE RUSSIANS.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

ST. PETERSBURG, April 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] By May 15 regular service of the troop trains over the Siberian Railway to the Far East will be suspended. After May 15 of the Russian calendar, the railway line will be open for private traffic, the government reserving the right to send through a few commissariat trains.

By that date Russia will have collected in the Far East a tremendously powerful fighting force.

ATTAC KONG SONG JIN.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
SEOUL (Korea) April 22, 4 p.m.—A special messenger from Genzan brings additional details of the recent Russian attack on Song Jin, in North-eastern Korea. The messenger reports that the Russians burned the Japanese consulate and 13 Korean customs godown (warehouse), rifled the telegraph-office and finally, it is supposed, retired to the northward. The presence of a Japanese squadron along the east coast of Korea will, it is thought, effectually stop all future Russian marauding expeditions.

JAP PLAN OF ATTACK.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, April 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The World's Chefoo correspondent says: "I have reason to believe the Japanese plan of attack is now clearly foreshadowed. It is based upon a number of feints at several points, one on the western coast of the Liao Tung Peninsula and another east of it, and west of the Yalu River, pointing at Takushan. Neither of these is really meant to be the true descent, which will be on the shores of Tallenwan Bay, on one side, and Kinchau Bay on the other, where the isolation of Port Arthur can be best secured by the landing of a strong force on both sides of the narrow isthmus. This is borne out by the now well-established fact that the Japanese have formed an advanced base on the Miniao Islands."

LAUNCHES BLOWN UP;
TWENTY-ONE DEAD.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

ST. PETERSBURG, April 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] This city was thrown into a semi-panic tonight by the official announcement that several launches from the battleship Peresviet had been destroyed, and twenty-one men were killed through a mine explosion prematurely at the southeast end of Port Arthur Harbor in the morning. Russian officers agree that this disaster undoubtedly was caused by the Japanese.

When the Petropavlovsk was blown up by Admiral Togo, it was alleged that a stray Russian mine had destroyed the warship. Now again comes the message that the steam launches were destroyed by their own mines. This is refuted here with derision by foreign naval attaches, who say that such an accident would be impossible in mine laying, even in a storm, and the news from Viceroy Alexieff is accepted as proof that Admiral Togo has made the mistake of firing at the launches.

It is believed that as the launches were employed they were mining the entrance to the harbor in order to prevent the Japanese from forcing an entrance and attempting to destroy the remaining ships.

It is evident from the closing of the entrance that Viceroy Alexieff has no intention of letting his ships go to sea against a superior force, though this must not be the policy of Vice-Admiral Skrydloff, who will determine on a plan of operation when he assumes command.

PRICE OF CARELESSNESS.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

ST. PETERSBURG, April 22.—"We are paying the price of carelessness," said a member of the Admiralty on receiving Alexieff's dispatch, "and previous disasters seem to teach nothing."

The War Commission suppressed a part of the Viceroy's dispatch, which showed where the mines were laid. It is believed that as the launches were employed they were mining the entrance to the harbor in order to prevent the Japanese from forcing an entrance and attempting to destroy the remaining ships.

It is evident from the closing of the entrance that Viceroy Alexieff has no intention of letting his ships go to sea against a superior force, though this must not be the policy of Vice-Admiral Skrydloff, who will determine on a plan of operation when he assumes command.

SIGNIFICANT SPEECHES.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

TOKIO, April 22, 6 p.m.—Two significant speeches were made today at a meeting of the council of the Progressive party. Count Okuma, former Premier, warned the people of Japan to be prepared for intervention during the war by some European power, and also for a great increase in the national expenditure when the war was over. He said that after the war it would be necessary to float a loan of at least $250,000,000.

Masuma Oishi, a Progressive leader, expressed the belief that Germany would take the initiative in intervening. He declared that no power could retain the morale and are ready to perform all duties required of them. The gracious words of Your Majesty addressed to the seamen at their hour of trial serve as a consolation and support to all the force in their efforts to overcome the enemy, to the glory of their beloved sovereign and their country."

LIEUT. JENIS'S EXPERIENCE.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

ST. PETERSBURG, April 22, 4:38 p.m.—Lieut. Jenis, one of the survivors of the Petropavlovsk disaster, in a telegram to his mother, says: "I was in the warfog when the explosion occurred. There were four explosions in all. The battleship sank in a minute and a half. I escaped without a scratch, and am now on shore in charge of the battery at electric searchlight plant, under Lieut. G. Stosel. Vice-Admiral Skrydloff goes to Sebastopol next week and thence to Port Arthur."

OCCASIONAL SKIRMISHES.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

LIAO YANG, April 22.—Occasional skirmishes with the Japanese along the Yalu River and unimportant tussles with small bands of Chinese bandits alone vary the monotony of the perpetual movements of troops to the seat of war.

Military trains are endlessly going up and down the line; infantry, cavalry and artillery are passing by daily. The troops which have reached their allotted stations are hard at work preparing to repulse the enemy. Wayside stations have been organized everywhere to give the soldiers on the march hot meals, warm shelter and comfortable beds.

The territorial rains which fell during the first fortnight of April did not affect the movement of troops.

A Red Cross hospital has been established here, and a flying field detachment has been sent out with pack horses and trained dogs to find wounded men.

The hospital work is under the personal supervision of M. Alexandrovsky, formerly Russian commissioner to the St. Louis Exposition. A large tent for the use of the Red Cross Society has been donated free of charge.

The foreign military attaches are at Gen. Kourapatkin's headquarters. Some foreign newspaper men have arrived here from Newchwang. A military newspaper will be published by Gen. Kourapatkin's field staff.

JAPANESE ADVANCE FORCES.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

SEOUL (Korea) April 19, (via Shanghai, April 22.) The second Japanese army is supposed to have left Japan April 16; it probably will attempt to land near Port Arthur, while other forces will try to land on the Manchurian coast near Takushan (about fifty-five miles to the west of the mouth of the Yalu), or Ta Tung Kao (about fifteen miles west of the river mouth). Part of the general advance will be toward Liao Yang, a division of the yards, 16,000 strong, under Maj-Gen. Inouye, will be the first troops sent against the Russians at Chiu Tien Cheng. Maj-Gen. Inouye won his laurels in the fighting at Cheng Ju March 23.

UNCLE SAM OWNER OF PANAMA CANAL.

PARIS, April 22.—The Associated Press is authorized to announce that the contract by which the Panama Canal passes to the United States is signed and sealed. The title to the canal is now vested in the United States.

The document by which this transaction is consummated bears the signatures of President Bo and Director Richan of the Panama Canal Company, who signed for the company as its responsible officials.

The transfer is complete and without reservation, and the United States secures a perfect title. This result has been quietly accomplished, and unexpectedly, as the public had been given to understand that the contract would not be executed until after the meeting of the stockholders of the Panama Canal Company, at which the question of ratification would be presented.

As a matter of fact, however, when the meeting takes place, President Bo will announce that the sale has been completed, and instead of asking for authority to execute a future contract, it will only remain to ratify the contract of sale which the officers of the company have already formally completed.

Only a few of the highest officers of the company are now aware of the secret, which will not be known except by this announcement in the United States up to the time of the meeting. It is confidently believed that the completion of the sale before the meeting will increase the vote for ratification, as it will be recognized that nothing more remains but to acquiesce.

When W. A. Day and Charles W. Russell, United States Assistant Attorneys-General, who are in Paris to assist in the transfer of the property were seen tonight by the Associated Press, they reluctantly admitted that the transfer had been consummated, and furnished the following official statement in writing:

"The papers transferring the rights and property by the new Panama Canal Company to the United States have already been executed and delivered. They will be ratified tomorrow afternoon by the stockholders' meeting. The agreement includes a general conveyance, and provisions for deeds and resignation in the Republic of Panama and in the canal zone now under the jurisdiction of the United States, in which zone the civil law continues in force by reason of the cessation of the zone from a civil law sovereignty. All formalities of the local laws on the isthmus have been arranged for and secured to the United States.

"The property will shortly be delivered on the isthmus, and upon that being done, the purchase price will be immediately paid. The full extent of the principal documents will be made public tomorrow night. The United States gets an unencumbered title."

would welcome the preponderance of Japanese in the Far East, and that many of the powers were prepared to resort to any and all means to curb the extension of the Japanese influence.

FLOATING MINES SEEN.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

TIENTSIN, April 22.—Floating mines have been seen off the Shantung promontory in the much-used railway followed by vessels bound to and from Shanghai and Chefoo, and Tientsin and other northern ports. This is extremely dangerous to shipping.

CONTROVERSY OVER WIRELESS.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

WASHINGTON, April 22.—There are signs of a difference of opinion between the civil and military branches of the government respecting the Russian decree against the use of wireless telegraphy by newspaper correspondents. The disposition of the service branches is distinctly in favor of government control, which makes toward the support of the Russian position. It is even argued that no civilian should be allowed to erect a wireless mast without executive permission, because its use might interfere with that of some military mast. While the State Department opinion is not crystallized, it is known that the department is disposed to move cautiously in laying any sweeping prohibitions on private enterprise, either newspaper or commercial.

"GET THERE" IS BUSINESS.

Neville Priestly Admires Our American Railways.

Men Who Run Them Are Full of Enthusiasm.

Rates to the World's Fair.
Oregonians Mourn.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)
LONDON, April 22.—(By Atlantic Cable.) Neville Priestly, under secretary to the government of India, in his Railways Department, who was sent to the United States last summer in study and report on American railways, has submitted his report.
It is an exhaustive review of the subject, and in conclusion pays a high tribute to American railway enterprise and management.
"The railways of America," says Priestly, "are commercial undertakings on a gigantic scale, and are operated under conditions which are to be found nowhere else in the world, since they receive no protection from the state and have had to fight their way to the front by sheer ability of management. If I have appeared enthusiastic at times, it is because I was greatly impressed by the courage with which the railroad officials have met their difficulties and the pluck with which they overcome them. It is impossible to associate with the great men who have made their mark on American railways—I may say American national history—without being infected with some of the enthusiasm they feel for their business, and no man can travel over their railways without becoming possessed of a great deal more knowledge than he previously had, or without getting many valuable hints.
"Many of their methods are different from those one has been brought up to believe the only correct methods, and it is not until one realizes that the one idea in the mind of the American railway men is to 'get there' by the shortest and quickest way, and do not allow themselves to be turned aside either by red tape or old-time prejudices, tradition, or any other of the bogies by which other countries are assailed, that one understands how the results have been obtained which one sees there.
"American railway men are quick to see a new idea; they are quicker still to try it; they take a great pride in their profession, and are all striving to get at the science of it. That their methods are not always perfect is not what might have been expected, but they have managed to do what no other country in the world has done, and that is: Carry their passenger traffic profitably at extraordinarily low rates, notwithstanding the fact that they pay more for their fuel than any other country.
"In the study of how they do this that much benefit can be derived by other countries; and, if I have, in some degree, succeeded in throwing light on their methods, I shall feel that I have succeeded often as well as myself, my visit to that great country, where the courtesy of the people is only eclipsed by their hospitality."

BLOW AT OREGON DAY.
NO SPECIAL RATES GRANTED.
(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)
PORTLAND (Or.) April 22.—The Transcontinental Passenger Association, while in session at Santa Barbara, Cal., dealt a severe blow at Oregon Day at the St. Louis Fair, when the dates of the sale of excusion tickets were fixed. The dates were so fixed that people from Oregon and the Northwest who wish to attend the Oregon Day proceedings are practically barred from the advantages of special rates. The only way in which they can get the benefit of the special rates is to go to the fair a month before Oregon Day and remain there during that time. The decision is this:
The association, in fixing the dates of sale for the special excursion tickets, selected only three days a month. The dates decided upon in May are the 11th, 12th, and 13th. After the latter date there are no more dates of sale until June 16. June 16 falls on Oregon Day at the World's Fair, and under the terms for the purchase of excursion tickets, people from the Northwest will be obliged to go to St. Louis three weeks in advance of Oregon Day to obtain advantage of the reduced rates.

RATES AS FIXED.

pany has decided to make a rate of

IT'S SKILL THAT COUNTS

In tailoring as with everything, skill and ability are just what count.

It doesn't just "happen" that our suits are more attractive or more becoming.
The style we create is really created, thought out, and brought to perfection by hours of careful work.

Sometimes a man says to us, "Wonder why my other tailor never did that."

There are so many places
in the construction of a good suit of clothes, where a skillful tailor has an opportunity to display originality!

A Silverwood suit—and this point we think very important—is created for you from the first step to the last finishing stitch.

No wonder it looks different from a suit that has been simply put together.

Eastern shoe manufacturers keep their eyes on the Broadway Department Store because they know that this store has the greatest outlet for shoes of any institution on the Pacific Coast. These manufacturers oftentimes approach us with lots of footwear that are so large that no other store in this city could think of handling them. This morning we begin a shoe sale that involves more than three solid carloads of shoes, all bright, crisp, spring and summer weight—footwear for men, women and children purchased by us at just about one-half their actual value, and passed on to our customers at the same liberal price concessions. These shoes were made for dealers in the East and Middle West. In some instances there were slight misunderstandings in regard to cut, finish and style, a different opinion in regard to the interpreting of specifications, buyers cancelled their contracts and left the manufacturers with the made-up products on their hands. Money was needed to conduct the season's business and our buyer was approached—a deal was made whereby we purchased the surplus and made-up stock of four large factories, a lot so large that it took three cars to bring these shoes across the continent. Mind you, these shoes are not confined to small sizes and narrow widths, there's a complete range of lengths and widths in every line that's advertised. The opportunities for saving are great, as in many instances the prices are just about one-half the actual value of the shoes. See our window display and form your own conclusions. HUMAN POSIES IN CANTATA.

Little Tots' Carnival Under Greenwood Tree.

"Awakening of the Flowers" The Happy Idea.

Tiny Jack Horner Tripped Round and Round.

You may think you have seen spring flowers in bewildering array, but you never saw such pretty ones as the little human flowers, who, with fluffy petals and calyx caps, gave a little they were really having a birthday celebration in honor of Froebel, who loved little children, and as he spoke German, there were many little German songs, and two of the boys read compositions about Froebel.

"Who are those flowers over there? They have a very festive air." The sun pointed inquiry from the sun brought out the buttercups and daisies in charming array, who danced and sang. Marguerite Hanson and Margaret Howell were the daisies, Charles Davidson and Henry Mudd the buttercups.

Two wild roses came out next, little Marcelle Montgomery and tiny four-year-old Gwendolyn Grady, who sang so sweetly that they had to come back and do it all over.

Estelle A. C. Cross, with fluffy petalled skirts and green calyx, was the flower that was unhappy because, alas, she forgot her name, and the kind All Father to comfort her named her "Forget-me-not."

The yellow cowslip, Gardner Glassell and Lewis Morel, sang "Suppose a Little Cowslip," and then a brilliant red poppy arrived on the scene. This poppy was Helen Paul, and she sang to the sun the dearest of poppy songs. Two tiny girls, Rachel Ward and Anita Rayburn, as "Baby Blue Eyes

A SOLDIER AT TWELVE.

Death of Youngest Veteran of the Civil War.

Comrade A. J. Botts Answers Last Roll Call.

Enlisted in Union Army in Thirteenth Year.

He who has been credited with having been the youngest soldier of the Civil War, has answered the last roll call. Andrew Jackson Botts is dead. Boys were men in the dark days of

when he was mustered into the service in the latter part of 1861, but he faced the fire of the enemy on a number of battlefields, and did a man's work in upholding the honor and the glory of the star-spangled banner until the end of the strife, when victory crowned the cause for which he strove.

Andrew Jackson Botts was born at Jefferson, Iowa, March 30, 1851. Most of his early youth was spent at Macon and Chillicothe, Mo. Both of his parents died when he was very young, and he was left to the care of an elder sister. The martial spirit was strong in him as in his illustrious namesake, Andrew Jackson, and when 12 years of age he threatened to runaway and go to the war, which was then raging between North and South. Missouri, a border slave State, was rent by faction, her population being almost equally divided between northern and southern sympathizers and partisans. The loyal German element of St. Louis is all that prevented Missouri from seceding from the Union. Young Botts, being of Iowa stock, was a Unionist, and toward the close of the conflict prevailed upon his sister to allow him to enlist in the Union army. Being underdressed as well as too young, he had to wait several years before he was accepted as a soldier. He was then a hardy, brave, and energetic young man, and he was soon promoted to the rank of private. He was then a hardy, brave, and energetic young man, and he was soon promoted to the rank of private.

After the war the youthful veteran settled at Milville, Mo., and afterward at Richmond, county seat of Ray county, Mo., where he engaged in the hardware, furniture and carriage business until November, 1882, when he located in Los Angeles. In this city Mr. Botts was in the carriage business. First, as a member of the firm of Botts & Conger, afterward Botts & Phelps, until several years ago, when he sold out and began prospecting for oil at Half Moon Bay, San Mateo county, Cal., where he was heavily interested in real property at the time of his death.

Several months ago Mr. Botts sold his home at Ninth and Sunbury streets, and began the erection of a handsome new house at No. 1541 Western avenue, where he was temporarily living in a barn, with his family, when death came. Latterly he was not well, but was able to be up and about, and was superintending his building operations. About 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon, while sitting on a sofa in his temporary home, he had a sudden attack of heart disease, and expired before medical aid could reach him.

Mr. Botts leaves a widow and four children—the eldest a son aged 24, the youngest a boy of 14, and two daughters. He was a member of the G.A.R., which some years ago presented him a beautiful gold and diamond medal for being the youngest veteran.

Mr. Botts eschewed politics, but served one term as Fire Commissioner of Los Angeles. In all his business dealings he had the reputation of being strictly honest and reliable. In his home life he was the ideal husband and father.

LOVE LAUGHS AT BARRIERS.

Downey Lovers Slip Away to Bakersfield to Wed.

Mother's Objections Easily Circumvented.

Bride Preferred Lover to a Trip Abroad.

Downey society has developed a real romance in which a doting mother, with objections, was neatly circumvented by a pair of lovers bent upon marriage. It was a case of mutual attachment where delay seemed intolerable and was regarded as dangerous. For several years Miss Victoria Weiss and Frank Spreul, both popular young people of Downey, have been engaged and that they would eventually wed was taken for granted by their associates.

Mrs. F. H. Weiss, the young lady's mother, however, had objections. She wanted her daughter to see the world and come in touch with social conditions abroad before making a final choice.

Accordingly a trip to Europe was planned. Mrs. Weiss and her children were scheduled to leave for New York today with the understanding that if Miss Victoria was still of the same mind on her return, there would be no objection to her union with young Spreul. That was Mamma Weiss's plan. She argued a short absence and contact with metropolitan social conditions would effect a cure.

Miss Weiss, however, calculated from a different basis. Frank Spreul was more to her than a European. She could possibly be, she planned to wed the man of her choice, caring little for permission or objection. She didn't go into retirement and pine for the lover who had been instructed to wait. She just smiled sweetly and concurred in all of her mother's plans. She was confident love would find a way as love usually does when parents get between two loving hearts.

Last Tuesday Mrs. Weiss and Miss Victoria came to Los Angeles on a shopping trip. Friends intended the young lady to remain for the evening for a little box party. The mother returned on the 5:15 train. Miss Weiss, when mamma was well out of the way, caught the "Owl" at River Station. At Bakersfield she was met by her sweetheart, where every preparation had been made for a wedding. Without delay the knot was tied. Love had found a way.

Although surprised at the little joke played upon her, Mrs. Weiss has accepted the situation gracefully and a blessing awaited the young people on their return to Downey. The European trip will be deferred for a while, although it is Mrs. Weiss's purpose to later place her son in a German school.

Mr. Spreul is a law student and has planned to enter the Hastings College at San Francisco.

TRUSTEESHIP GOES A-BEGGING.

MAY'S PLACE ON THE ASYLUM BOARD STILL VACANT.

Attorney George P. Adams Has the Appointment from Gov. Pardee, but the Arduous Requirements of the Position Cause Him to Defer Acceptance.

The vacancy on the board of managers of the Southern California State Hospital for the Insane, caused by the forced resignation of Tom Hays, has not yet been filled and selection of a man for the job is causing Gov. Pardee all kinds of trouble.

Hays's resignation had hardly reached the office of the Governor's mail was laden with indorsements of men anxious to serve their State. Among the number were men having legitimate claims upon his consideration; others there were with a little as to grind, and all were turned down. In conversation with a friend Gov. Pardee, in discussing the situation, is reported to have said: "Anyone asking for that job has some personal end to serve. I will not consider such an applicant. I want a man there that will take the mass of stuff on file in the office of the Lunacy Commission reflecting upon the administration of the hospital, and probe to the bottom every accusation."

The Governor's first tender was to E. T. Earl, but that gentleman declined the appointment. Last Tuesday George P. Adams, a local attorney, was given the place, and his credentials were mailed. Mr. Adams, however, is not sure that he wants the job. To a Times man he said: "Gov. Pardee expects his appointee to go up there and institute an investigation. That will take time and will be far from a pleasant task. I don't know that I care to undertake it. In fact, I haven't the time. But of one thing I will assure you in the event of my acceptance, I will go to the bottom of things and find out what is back of all of these rumors of rottenness that have put the hospital in a position of disrepute."

Mr. Adams will decide today whether or not he will accept the Governor's tender.

ARGUE ROUTING.

Fruit Shippers' Case Submitted to Judge Wellborn—Calls Kinney Dodger.

The case of the Interstate Commerce Commission against the Southern Pacific and the Santa Fe and its branches operating in Southern California was argued before Judge Wellborn in the United States District Court yesterday. The suit involves the right of the fruit shipper to route his shipments at will and is based, among other things, on allegations that the defendant corporations have refused to obey the order of the commission. Attorneys who appeared for the prosecution were L. A. Shaver, solicitor for the commission, United States District Attorney Valantine and J. H. McCall, special counsel. The Santa Fe was represented by Attorney J. H. Norton and the Southern Pacific by Attorney Frank P. Finn. Attorney P. P. Dunn appeared for other defendants.

Judge Wellborn took the case under advisement.

SAYS KINNEY'S A DODGER.

Taking exception to statements in a morning paper purporting to tell how the investigation of the charges made by Abbot Kinney against him is to be conducted, Mr. Nafziger yesterday said:

"The committee will, of course, make its own rules of procedure. It having already been agreed that the investigation shall be confined to the charges made by Mr. Kinney in the Post of March 24, 1904, and that the burden of proof is upon him, extraneous matters will no doubt be excluded as far as the committee is able to do so in order to avoid consuming unnecessary time. All this talk about expert books and accounts of the California Fruit Agency, and the various local exchanges and associations, which a morning paper says Mr. Kinney will insist upon, is a mere dodge intended to be used to cover his retreat. I have nothing to do with this case, and Mr. Kinney will only demand an investigation of such books and papers for the purpose of delay and to throw dust in the eyes of the people and divert attention from the demand that he shall prove his charges."

and Little Sweet Pea," won every one present by their sweet looks and dear little voices.

"Hand in hand, two friends you see, Baby Blue Eyes and Little Sweet Pea. One is pink, the other is blue. They're just as dear as dear can be."

Last of all the flower procession were the California poppies, who, as every one knows, are very yellow.

"Last of all, my friends, are these. Loved of butterflies and bees."

Cambell Hoyle, Irvine Hewitt and Elbert Wing were these poppies. The sun said "Goodbye," and the children did, too, and the happy little all fresco affair was over.

GIRL ORATORS WIN.

Young Ladies of the U.S.C. Down the Men in Joint Debate, Receiving Unanimous Decision.

"Shall the University of Southern California Be Moved to a Smaller Town?" was the interesting subject discussed yesterday afternoon at the joint meeting of the Athens and Aristotelian literary societies.

Guy Dyer and Ernesto Garcia of Aristotelian, the young men's society, upheld the affirmative, and Miss Marion Heil and Miss Edith Lincoln of Athens, the young women's organization, took the negative. The result was a handsome victory for the negative—the young ladies receiving the unanimous decision of the judges.

Aristotelian Hall, where the debate was held, was well filled with members of the two societies and their friends. All of the arguments were good and all of the speakers were applauded as they concluded their efforts.

The judges were Miss Esther Boardman, Miss Faulkner, Charles Scott and David Pachoyan.

Next Friday night an intercollegiate debate between the University of Southern California and the University of the Pacific will be held at Simpson Auditorium. Charles Scott and Delbert Brunton will represent the local college.

As this is the first time these two Methodist institutions have competed for honors much interest is manifested in the contest.

"The Awakening of the Flowers" was the title of the spring cantata, and it was presented out under the trees with the green foliage and grassy carpet for the stage setting, while interested fathers and mothers viewed the charming scene from an improvised dress circle of chairs, and even a few little birds hopped merrily about in the leafy branches overhead as though about to help it out with a merry lilt of their own.

Oh, such a number of bright-colored blossoms—some of the little tots representing them being of such tender years that the baby look was still on their dear little faces and some of the tongues voiced their songs in true baby language. There was the blue bell, with her wand with little blue bells jingling; there were the daisy and the forget-me-not, buttercups and roses, violets and sweet peas, cowslips and honeys, and what all were awake they sang a joyous song to the spring. LAST DRUNK OF "T. CARROL."

Wonderful Jag Combination of a Suicide.

Whisky, Beer, Port Wine and Morphine Mixed.

Identification Not Complete. Who and What?

A pitiful derelict shot himself in a cheap lodging-house on San Pedro street yesterday.

It was a death over which Ibsen's Hedda Gabler would have cried "beautiful, beautiful!"

The man's last hours were a horrible cry of agony.

The spiritual consolation of his last despairing afternoon was a box of opium pellets, a bottle of laudanum, a bottle of port wine, a pitcher of beer, two big bottles of whisky and unlimited cigarettes.

It was not a riotous jag. The man knew that he could not get drunk. His trouble was too bitter. It was cold-blooded, ironical, secret despair. Only a sensitive nature, one that could know the damnation of utter despair, could have planned this.

His last money went for a poor revolver. Knowing the ineffectiveness of it, he shot himself twice and, dying, replaced it on the bureau, threw himself across the doorway so that none might enter.

That last, was a touch of real art. The indications are that the man was T. Carroll, although he gave the name of H. C. Smith and is entered down in the police archives as H. C. Smith.

He came late Thursday night to a miserable, dirty little lodging-house on San Pedro street and asked for a tenement room for the night. He was well-dressed, courteous and cheerful.

He slept the night through and was in and out of his room all day yesterday—going on repeated excursions for liquor. The landlord remonstrated with him for drinking; he only smiled kindly.

The end came at 4:30 yesterday afternoon. The landlord was taking a notion to see the man with his body pistol shots within a few seconds of each other. He tried the door, but could not get it open. He called the man's name and he did not answer.

On the table by his bed stood the bottles of whisky, nearly empty, and the bottle of laudanum containing nothing but the smell. Beer had been spilled over the floor and still was odoriferous.

The Trained Nurse

HER STRENGTH SOMETIMES TAKEN BEYOND LIMIT.

A Graduate of the New York Training School Tells How She Recovers After Heavy Strain.

The trained nurse plays a very important part in the modern treatment of disease greatly to the relief of both doctor and patient. Because she is well disciplined she is able to perform difficult service and to endure fatigue in a manner that excites admiration and wonder.

She is human, however, and in trying cases the demands upon her strength prove excessive. She fulfills her duty nobly to the last moment, but, as soon as she is relieved she is compelled to build up her own weakened powers. She naturally wants the remedy that will restore her efficiency in the shortest possible time, and as her knowledge of medicines is wide, her choice is likely to be a sensible one and a remarkably good guide for everybody else.

Every word of the following careful statement of Mrs. Jessie M. F. Cummings, of 61 Whitmore street, Hartford, Conn., a graduate of the New York Training School for Nurses, is entitled to the weight which attaches to the utterance of an expert:

"Several months ago," said Mrs. Cummings recently, "I was completely worn out as the result of a very serious and trying case I had attended. I needed a tonic, and I got six boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and took them faithfully. I obtained the good from them I expected to, and I can say with truth and pleasure that the remedy is a splendid tonic for women's nerves."

The soundness of Mrs. Cummings' opinion is confirmed by the experience of numerous sufferers from nervous disorders of every kind and degree, from simple debility to partial paralysis. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have cured obstinate cases of rheumatism, prostration, sciatica and St. Vitus' dance; they have even conquered the most frightful of nervous diseases, locomotor ataxia, after the patient had been reduced to a state of helplessness and had been told to prepare for death.

They check waste and begin to minister a fresh and lasting vitality at once. They are sold by all druggists throughout the world. A booklet giving information of great value will be sent free on application to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

and took rooms at the Parker House on East Fifth street. He became well known to the proprietor of the house as a companionable gentleman, but that is as far as the acquaintance progressed.

Yesterday morning a strong smell of gas was detected at the door of the room occupied by Langlois, and when the door was forced open he was found unconscious on his bed and the gas turned on full head. There is no room for doubting the intention of the man to destroy his life, as he had piled his clothing against the door and the door in order to prevent the escape of the gas. He also closed the transom, which has always been left open, and he failed to stuff up the keyhole, and it was through this that the gas streamed. Langlois was rushed to the Emergency Hospital, and the report was given out last night that he would probably recover. He has done no work coming to the city, but his motive is apparent why he should attempt to take his own life.

A man named Lena, residing at No. 618 East Ninth street, attempted to shoot himself yesterday afternoon, but failed, the bullet glancing along under the armpit and doing no harm. Somebody telephoned to the Police Station and the ambulance was sent in a hurry, but when it reached the house the man was dead. The officers in Dr. Friedman, however, prevailed upon her to admit him and he found the conditions stated, but neither the man nor the woman would vouchsafe any explanation. Powder on the side of the man's face indicated that he had fired the shot himself. It was not thought necessary to remove him to the hospital.

This great twice-yearly event is by far the most popular underwear sale we have ever held.
